The Digital Gulag Is the Guillotine for a Sovereign Humanity

Shackled with digital money and digitally controlled food, linked to a digital ID

"The transformation is happening quietly, without consent, and most people will not recognize what has been built until the gate locks behind them." —Mark Keenan (see this)

What Mark Keenan refers to is money. Indeed quietly, cash as we knew it is being phased out gradually and much behind our backs, and much with the slogans of convenience, convincing primarily young people, who have since birth been indoctrinated by a digitized world.

They think it's super-cool, passing with hour wrist before a cashiers "cash-machine" that deducts the purchase amount directly from your bank account. No qualms.

Most young people do not care. They grew up with a smartphone in their crib, so they would not bother their parents. Many of the older generations too, they believe the sloganism of comfort of their betraying governments. After all, it is so much safer walking around without cash.

They do not think of the possibility of a major – manmade – blackout that would wipe out their bank account, the credit on their smartphones ("smart", as in betrayal), or their watch or wrist-chip… no conscience.

Just a blind walk into the abyss. Gone. For good. No way out of the digital darkness – the digital gulag, the digital shackles.

Of course, such a thing as wiping out a bank account will not happen to the elite. They are well-protected. That is one way of transferring assets from the bottom to the top.

The masses in a digital lockdown. That has not quite happened yet, but it could happen any moment.

Alternatively, we are being prepared slowly, gradually, and as mentioned before, quietly. It is called the "Salami Tactic." One day, they announce a digital ID is coming, they let the protests gradually go away. Next announcement – your bank account will be linked to the e-ID. Other protests, but as usual, ebbing off, nothing major happens beyond protests and whitewashing in the news that could endanger their Agenda 2030.

They slowly but surely do away with the Automated Teller Machines (ATM), where you can get cash with a fee. There are ever-fewer ATMs around – and when they are all gone, the salami has reached its end. Then you are confined to a digital matrix.

It is then that you realize they have been slicing away from your salami, quietly without you even noticing because you were blinded by their digital propaganda of convenience and comfort.

Once the salami is gone, you are with your back against the Wall – the Wall of the Banker. He always called the shot, but now he does it finitely – no way out. You do not behave, the authorities tell the bank to block your account or limit its use… or else, if you promise to be good, maybe they will grant you a loan, so you will not starve, a loan with (high) interests.

Of course, the interest game.

Debt and interest are also an invention, a Zionist invention, of our (western) monetary system. It is against all ethics – but nobody notices this anymore. Debt has been ingrained into our "modernized" brains and thinking for centuries. And as we move "forward", debt and interest are instruments of digitization.

Here are some snippets explaining how religions saw – some still do – debt and interest:
Islam views interest on loans (riba) as forbidden and a serious crime. The Quran prohibits Muslims from both paying and receiving interest, viewing it as an unjust and exploitative gain. However, repaying debt is a duty.
Judaism – the Torah prohibits charging interest to fellow Jews. [Notice to fellow Jews; but does not apply to gentiles].
Historically Christianity and Judaism had strong prohibitions against usury [interest on debt]. Islam is the religion that currently maintains a more comprehensive prohibition on interest.
Hindu tradition allows interest on debt, but emphasizes that all debts must be paid. Failure to do so is considered a sin that may have negative consequences in the afterlife.

Forgive this little historic religious transgression into times when moral grounds had a higher standing than today, when Zionism — the pseudo-religion that claims to follow Judaism, aiming at dominating the world as the "Chosen People" — had not yet evolved to the current state of atrocity.

Guess, who is behind the all-digitization? You guessed right.

Money is closely followed by agriculture, ergo, food; soon to be digitally controlled for your eating habits, your (CO_2 emissions directly and indirectly) environmental footprint and your lifestyle.

The Global Transformation of Food Systems – The Killing Off of Food Sovereignty is a MUST read to understand where we are going – and once we are there… we are cooked, literally and figuratively.

Julian Rose, a prominent author, and bio-food farmer refers to a Lancet report, upon which an apparently important food conference was based [the recent EAT Stockholm Food Forum, on October 3-4, 2025]. It highlighted the coming role of digital tools in monitoring citizens' diets and lifestyles, stating that soon it will be possible to introduce [digital] CO2 emission tracking systems linked to food consumption and ways of identifying compliance with nutritional recommendations.

The conference got relatively little publicity, as it should, so not to attract too much attention to decisions taken behind the curtains, if not closed doors, as is usual, whenever WHO's Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, and other chief eugenists, Rockefeller and Bill Gates are present.

The article goes on,

> Of course, it is only coincidence that the digital monitoring of citizens proposed – is also the proposition for the World Economic Forum's Great Reset, Fourth Industrial Revolution, and the call for a Central Bank Digital Currency with individual ID's linked to biometric facial scans.

See this.

And who would have forgotten late Henry Kissinger's wisdom, "who controls the food supply, controls the people…"

Sir Henry Kissinger is also a prominent eugenist.

Long before digitization was taking over the world, he wrote a National Security Paper in 1972, released in 1974 as the influential "Kissinger Report" titled National Security Study Memorandum 200 (NSSM 200): Implications of Worldwide Population Growth for U.S. Security and Overseas Interests.

This classified document, officially adopted as US policy in 1975, analyzed the implications of global population growth for U.S. security and interests, and recommended policies to help developing countries slow their population growth, meaning reducing their population, for example by "vaccine"-induced fertility blockers [see Bill Gates / WHO in Kenya, Uganda, India, and more].

Today, this National Security Strategy is omnipresent in the center of the international elite's chessboard, advocating under different pretexts, the wellbeing of people, meaning societal culling for the benefit of a few.

See this by Dennis Meadows (as recent as May 2023), Chief author of the Club or Rome's 1972 Report, "Limits to Growth", one of the first papers openly advocating massive population reduction. Meadows advocates in this brief video culling of about 86% of the current population.

It is not a coincidence that WHO's Tedros, a criminal in his home country, Ethiopia, has also been put in charge of the fraudulent climate agenda, another tool by which humanity may be attacked and gradually reduced, due to all sorts of climate-caused disasters – manmade disasters – diseases, floods, droughts, earthquakes and more – all in the name of "climate change." Yes, the WHO is in charge.

Do we finally understand where digitization of everything, what Klaus Schwab once called the 4th Industrial Revolution, is leading us?

Into a rabbit hole without exit.

Wake up!
